

Show off contest

Description

In case you didn't know, November 7th, 2015, is Digital Scrapbooking Day. It is an opportunity to promote memory keeping through scrapbooking using pixels instead of scissors and glue. Are you already a veteran of digital scrapbooking? Or are you a traditional scrapbooker who is just considering going digital? Have you just started digital scrapbooking recently? Either way, we have something to help you. The SHOW OFF CONTEST.

What to do?

Since this contest is called SHOW OFF, I want you to actually show off a digital scrapbook project you did using Paintshop Pro. To make it a little bit more of a challenge, you need to use one of the following:

- a technique shown in the Campus (in The Lab, a Master Class, Tips & Tricks, etc.)
- a free element from the blog
- an element from the store

Basically, I want to see you show off the capabilities of Paintshop Pro. Just make sure you point out to what technique or what element you used, in particular. Can you do that?

How to do it?

In order to show off your work, you can either post a link in the comments below, OR in the forum. You are allowed up to THREE entries only (I know you want to show more, but let's give others some chances, especially those who are just starting).

Until when?

Since Digital Scrapbook Day is on November 7th, you will probably going to be quite busy this coming weekend. In addition, there will be a series of FREE tutorials available to you over the weekend, so they might be used as techniques to show off. So, to give you some time to complete your project, the random draw will be held on the next Saturday, so November 14th.

For what?

Of course, any contest has to have a prize, right? On November 14th, we will pick 3 winners.

First prize: One copy of the PSPX8 Ultimate (value of $99.99)

Second prize: 2 Master Classes of your choice (value of $39.98)

Third prize: 12 Cards for Christmas bundle (value of $9.99)

And while you are enjoying viewing everyone's entries, share the joy and tell your friends to join in the fun. If your friends are totally new to digital scrapbooking, give them the opportunity to get started with our free quick pages.

What are you waiting for? Submit your digital scrapbook layout before November 14th for a chance to win one of those great prizes!
