

Shoes are intended to protect and comfort our feet. Sometimes people buy them for decoration and others use them for fashion purposes. While these items are mainly for keeping our toes warm and covered, you'll be amazed at how many varieties as well as styles of shoes you can find in the market today. There are ones that are ideal for working. Some are great for walking and other everyday activities while others are perfect for special occasions.

Are you fond of collecting shoes? Do you pick a pair of shoes because you like the style or do you usually go for comfort and durability? Whatever the answer may be, we hope that you'll be inspired to showcase your favorite shoes on a scrapbook page after checking the beautiful layouts featured below.

Formal Shoes/Heels

Formal shoes are a must-have item. Aside from the office, they are a popular choice for both men and women when attending parties, weddings, or any other formal occasion. These shoes are usually made from luxurious materials that seem to add elegance to anyone who wears them.
