Description

As we go about our daily lives from past to present and with technology advancing, most of us likely have photos during our travels where we are capturing moments while riding various types of transportation vehicles. Sometimes when we are just waiting for the time while boarding a train or a bus or even an airplane, these could become precious memories once you write about them and add photos on your digital scrapbook page. Here are some transportation ideas to get you going.

Bicycles

It is perhaps true that once you learn to ride a bike, it will stay with you for the rest of your life. For kids, riding a bicycle is fun. For teens, it could be an inexpensive way to travel, like to go to school or to hang out with friends. For adults, biking can be a sport and a form of exercise. What about you? Do you know how to ride a bike? Do you have any bicycle stories to share?

Cars

Cars for most people are an essential part of life. Especially people who need to travel for work or to places for a living. For kids, toy cars can be super fun to play with.

But sometimes, accidents happen and a car crash is never a funny thing. Although, if you document and write about it, it should serve as a warning for friends and family members to always drive safely.

Motorcycles

For some people, riding motorcycles can be very thrilling and gives them a sense of “freedom”. It is also the most cost-effective means of travel for others that’s why they choose to ride motorcycles instead of automobiles. Whatever your story, just remember to always wear your helmet before you hit the road!

Airplanes

Statistics say it's the safest way to travel and airplanes are here to stay. With so many airlines flying to almost anywhere with an airport, it's the fastest way to arrive to a destination, too. Some people are lucky enough to learn how to fly their own airplanes and the joy of doing so is probably something worth writing about!

But if you have the opportunity to document your first flight (or your child's), why not?

Trains

People who live in cities that have train rides are blessed to be able to commute quickly and cheaply. You just have to mind your stops and the time schedule, but otherwise it is another fun experience for anyone. Trains come in different shapes and sizes. And what kid doesn't enjoy playing with toy trains? Even adults enjoy building those train tracks for kids, too!

Sometimes, however, some trains are just on display. Some adults are surely having fun creating those detailed replica using model trains.

Of course, nobody says that the train has to be real either. How about the train to Hogwarts? Wouldn't you love to ride it?

Boats

Riding a cruise ship or sailing away into the sunset on a private yacht sounds like a dream. For people who are fans of boat riding, they will tell you there's something about the ocean that beckons them to sail away. During the summer, you can be sure that it is quite an exciting trip!

RVs

For people who love the outdoors, going camping by taking a recreational vehicle or RV is not just fun but also an experience you'll never forget. Some people even choose to live in an RV as it gives them the flexibility to just travel anywhere and at any time they want.

Dave drove the camper towing "booty" and i drove the FJ. we went to Ouray, Colorado; then Moab, Utah; and then to Lake Powell, Arizona

ATVs and Trailing

And if you love the outdoors, you might also have an ATV or an all-terrain vehicle. Kids love riding these and adults do it for fun and for sports. Four-wheeling is indeed fun and some people even join a club or a group where they go trailing up hills and mountains with their big cars and SUVs.

Rockets

While not all of us get the chance to ride a rocket ship, visiting space museums or NASA gives us the opportunity to feel what it's like to be in one or even just stand close to take a picture beside one.

Most vehicles will leave some tracks, especially those on wheels. You can use these 5 tire track picture tubes to create any trace of your trips. Click HERE if you want this set of tubes (for Paintshop Pro only)
