Description

Christmas is undoubtedly the most wonderful time of the year. There's something about the holiday season that just fills us with happiness and joy. Maybe it's the twinkling lights and decorations that fill our homes and streets. Maybe it's the festive music that can be heard everywhere you go. Or maybe it's the anticipation of spending time with loved ones and exchanging gifts. Whatever the reason, Christmas is definitely a special time of year.

One of the best things about Christmas is the feeling of giving. Whether it's giving a present to someone special, or giving your time to help others, it just feels good to make someone else's holiday a little brighter. Seeing the look of happiness on someone's face when they receive a gift they've been hoping for is one of the best parts of Christmas.

No matter what your Christmas looks like, it is a time to come together and celebrate. It is a time to be grateful for what we have and to focus on the positive. It is a time to spread love and happiness. And it also is a time to create memories that will last a lifetime. What are you looking forward to this Christmas? Check out below some inspiring and loving ways how they celebrate Christmas and document it to cherish for the years to come.

Stockings

Christmas stockings come in all shapes and sizes, from simple sock-like stockings to elaborate, decorated stockings. They are often filled with small toys, candy, and other goodies. Many people have their own personal traditions when it comes to Christmas stockings. Some people hang them only on Christmas Eve, while others leave them up all season. Some people stuff them with coal, while others only put goodies inside.

What to do with the Christmas stockings has always been a bit of a conundrum. In our previous house, we did have a fireplace but we still could not really hang them. We resorted to hanging them on the staircase decorative wrought iron railing. Here, no fireplace and no decorative railing either. We ended up placing a toy chair by the tree and hanging them on the ears. It did not seem to bother Santa! He had placed some goodies in each of them by Christmas morning!
